darling, you send me....

Visit far-away places without leaving home –
just go to the wall with your favourite postcards

Straight and narrow Group your postcards to create wall art. Gather them in an alcove or above a bookshelf, or give yourself card blanche, as above, and use a series of framed postcards as an informal headboard. What could be better to wake up to?

Dreamweaver Pull them out of the shoebox and turn your postcard paraphernalia into something special. Simply attach two ribbons to the wall, one on top of the other, pinning them together at each end. Slip a postcard behind the top ribbon, then bring the second ribbon to the front and place another postcard behind it. Continue weaving the cards in this way and you'll find they stay in place. hb
